

Colfosco has excellent access to the legendary Sella Ronda circuit in Italy. Colfosco is a smaller, quieter satellite village of neighbouring Corvara, with a few bars and restaurants and a group of large chalet-style hotels. It's a fantastic place to have a peaceful experience after a day on the slopes. The stunning scenery alone is worth a visit. Part of the Alta Badia region, there's great access to some of the best slopes in Italy.

Top Runs

- For intermediates there's a vast network of slopes ideal for cruising and confidence-boosting. The red back to Corvara underneath the Boe cable car is excellent, it's usually uncrowded and retains good snow.
- The area around Corvara and Colfosco is excellent for novices, with great nursery slopes and lots of easy runs to progress to.
- For experts, the much longer wooded runs down to La Villa include a black run, which can be tricky when icy. Or you can whizz off towards Selva or Arabba on the Sella Ronda circuit.

Best for Après Ski

- Après Ski Bar Sadla
A classic Alpine ski bar with very welcoming staff. On a sunny day the outside seating has beautiful views.
- Mathiaskeller
Is a popular spot for après ski drinks, as well as offering traditional South-Tyrolean cuisine including fondue.
- Altrove
This bar has a brilliant atmosphere and a great wine menu. Live music acts play throughout the winter season.

Recommended Restaurants

- Mathiaskeller
Classic South-Tyrolean dishes fill the restaurant's extensive menu. For a real treat, indulge in their excellent fondue!
- Hotel Restaurant Jägerhof
This restaurant prides itself with its delicious South-Tyrolean dishes. It also has vegetarian and vegan options.
- Ristorante Pizzeria Black Hill
Excellent pizza in Colfosco at great value. A highly recommended choice.
- L'Sciadà restaurant
The homemade pasta here is delightful. Its menu is full of traditional Ladin dishes.