

Kitzbühel is a large, Austrian town with a beautiful, medieval centre. With extensive and varied slopes, Kitzbühel is one of the big names in the ski world, largely thanks to its spectacular Hahnenkamm downhill race course – the most exciting on the World Cup circuit. There is plenty to do off the slopes and many visitors love the upscale ambience, as well as chic shops and cafes. The nightlife is vibrant and there are excellent mountain restaurants.

Top Runs

- For beginners or intermediates, the Asten number 20 blue run leads directly into the resort centre and runs next to the World Cup slope.
- For experts, the best pistes and off-piste terrain are mostly concentrated in the Steinbergkogel–Ehrenbachgraben area.
- The Hahnenkamm area is prime terrain. Good intermediates will want to do the World Cup downhill run and the long blues of around 1,000m vertical to Klausen, Kirchberg and Skirast are satisfying. The black to Aschau is not difficult, and a lovely way to end the day (check the bus times first).

Best for Après Ski

- Club Take Five
As the biggest club in Kitzbühel and conveniently located a few moments from the resort centre, its the perfect spot for late-night escapades. Known for its swanky reputation, guests can expect cocktails and bubbles.
- Schialm
A popular stop-over point with culinary delights and local brews. It has a cosy restaurant for the colder, snowy days, and a large sun terrace where the vibe cranks up around 4pm for après ski with some good music. It is a gentle ski down an easy slope back to the village.
- Pavillon
Set just in front of the Hahnenkamm gondola, Pavillon is one of the best spots if you fancy a lively après scene.
- The Londoner
Kitzbühel's long-established British pub is a great venue

Recommended Restaurants

- The Neuwirt
Located in the chic Schwarzer Adler Hotel, this is regarded as the best restaurant in town and has won awards from food guides. The dishes are imaginative and full of flavour.
- Huberbräu–Stüberl
An old-world Tyrolean haunt with vaults and pine benches, this tavern favours substantial portions of Austrian classics, such as schnitzel, goulash and dumplings, cooked to perfection.
- Panorama Alm
This has a beautiful, intimate interior and a great terrace with a bar and excellent food. Plus, as the name suggests, exquisite views.
